elected. The Democratic State Committee will, however, compare with 1884, and there will be two sets of reports next Tuesday night.

IOWA.

National Issues, Prohibition and Silver—Mr. Allison's Candidacy.

DES MOINES, Nov. 3.—The Republicans of Iowa have fought the campaign on national issues; the Democrats and Prohibitionists on prohibition, while silver was the issue with the People's party. National issues predominated, however, because the Legislature to be elected will choose a United States Senator to succeed Senator Allison. The fact of Senator Allison's candidacy for the Presidency naturally was a factor in the campaign, and more than anything else gave it a national character. On legislative tickets throughout the State prohibition was the main issue.

The most prominent questions debated in the campaign were relating to the currency, tariff, legislation of the last Congress, administration of President Cleveland as respects his domestic and foreign policy and the large increase of public debt to pay current expenses. There was more or less debate on local State questions, but the following topics were national in their character. The tickets are as follows:

Republican—Governor, Francis M. Drake of Centerville; Lieutenant-Governor, Matt Parrott of Waterloo; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Henry Sabin of Clinton; Railroad Commissioner, George W. Perkins of Fremont county; Judge Supreme Court, Josiah Given of Des Moines.

Democratic—Governor, W. L. Babcock of Henry county; Lieutenant-Governor, Samuel E. B. Miller of Henry county; Judge Supreme Court, Thomas G. Hopper of Des Moines county; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Lyman E. Parshall of Jackson county; Railroad Commissioner, George Jenkins of Dubuque county.

Populist—Governor, Sylvester Crane of Scott county; Lieutenant-Governor, A. R. Starrett of Humboldt county; Judge Supreme Court, T. W. Ivory of Mills county; Railroad Commissioner, E. J. Stason of Woodbury county; State Superintendent, L. B. Teer of Guthrie county.

Prohibition—Governor, Frank Bacon of Washington county; Lieutenant-Governor, M. M. Atwood of Emmett county; Judge Supreme Court, Judge J. W. Rogers of Fayette county; State Superintendent, Mrs. L. D. Carhart of Linn county; Railroad Commissioner, H. F. Adams of Harrison county.

KANSAS.

The Chief Justiceship the Only Big Bone of Contention.

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 3.—Kansas this fall will elect a chief justice of the Supreme Court, six district judges, one judge of the Common Pleas Court, two State Senators and a full set of county officers in about half of the counties in the State.

The campaign has been the quietest of any for years, and with the exception of the chief justiceship, there has been practically no contest for the different offices. David Martin of Atchison has been renominated by the Republicans for Chief Justice and will run again. Charles E. Holiday, Jr., of Topeka, the Independent candidate, Holiday was renominated by petition on an independent re-submission ticket. He is an avowed free-silver man.

KENTUCKY.

State Officers and Legislators and a Successor to Blackburn.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 3.—On Tuesday, November 5, the people of Kentucky will be called on to elect State officers, one-half of the Senate and a new House of Representatives. The incoming legislature will elect a United States Senator to succeed Senator Blackburn. The candidates for the position are the incumbents, Congressman McCreary, both Democrats. A number of Republicans have been mentioned for the place but no one has been announced by authority. On the part of the Republicans and the opposition generally, the nomination has been conducted on State issues.

Gen. Hardin, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has had to fight the combined opposition and a large element in his own party, because of his failure to win the nomination. His election is in doubt, and the majority either way will be very small, but at present it looks as if neither one of the leading parties would capture all of the offices for which they are contending.

It is the general opinion that Senator Blackburn will be re-elected United States Senator, and that the Democrats will lose the offices of Governor, Secretary of State and Attorney-General. There are four candidates for the voters, viz., Democratic, P. W. Hardin for Governor; Republican, W. O. Bradley for Governor; and Prohibition, T. B. Denvers for Governor. There are more independent candidates in Kentucky than ever before, and there will be a great deal of scratching, so much that it would be impossible to fairly prophesy the result of the election.

The full list of candidates is as follows:

Democratic—Governor, P. W. Hardin; Lieutenant-Governor, E. Y. Tyler; Auditor, L. C. Norman; Secretary of State, Henry S. Hale; Treasurer, R. C. Ford; Attorney-General, William J. Henrich; Superintendent of Instruction, Ed. P. Thompson; Register of Land Office, Green R. Swonger; Commissioner of Agriculture, J. B. Wall.

Republican—Governor, W. O. Bradley; Lieutenant-Governor, William Worthin; Auditor, Samuel H. Stone; Secretary of State, Charles F. Kelly; Treasurer, George W. Long; Attorney-General, W. S. Taylor; Superintendent of Instruction, William J. Davison; Register of Land Office, Charles O. Jones; Commissioner of Agriculture, Lucas Moore.

Prohibition—Governor, T. B. Denvers; Lieutenant-Governor, G. G. Hugher; Auditor, J. W. Ragsdale; Secretary of State, Mrs. F. E. Beauchamp; Treasurer, Mrs. F. E. Beauchamp; Attorney-General, J. B. Fennell; Superintendent of Instruction, Mrs. J. K. Henry; Register of Land Office, S. E. Simpson; Commissioner of Agriculture, S. B. Walden.

Independent—Governor, Thomas S. Pettitt; Lieutenant-Governor, J. B. Blair; Auditor, Charles S. Deane; Secretary of State, Don Singleton; Treasurer, M. R. Gardner; Attorney-General, S. M. Payton; Superintendent of Instruction, H. H. Farmer; Register of Land Office, Turner Spencer; Commissioner of Agriculture, William L. Scott.

*Renominated.

MARYLAND.

Bitter Contest for Governor, Attorney-General and Comptroller.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—At the Maryland State election on Tuesday, November 5, the offices to be filled are: Governor, Attorney-General and State Comptroller. No election in recent years in this State has been contested with the bitterness and acrimony which has characterized the present fight, which is looked upon as the most crucial of the many contests in which Maryland's Democratic leader, United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, has been engaged.

It is universally believed that his political future depends upon the result, and he is taking a personal part in the campaign to a far greater extent than has been known to do for many years. There are no State issues of consequence, and the campaign is to have been lost sight of by both parties. Party lines are ignored by many for the time being, and the Democratic voters are classified as being either for or against Senator Gorman.

The ground upon which many justify the support of Senator Gorman, the Democratic leader of this city, and that the candidates are not the actual choice of the people. The bolters include many who have been prominent in the ranks of the Democracy, headed by the Sun of this city, which has always been noted for its steadfastness to Democratic principles.

Senator Gorman's well-known antagonism to the Cleveland administration is being used against the Democratic ticket, while, upon the other hand, the Democrats insist that this is but a pretext, and assert that the Republicans are merely using it in order to carry the State for its effect upon national elections. A Legislature is to be elected, and the people choose a successor to United States Senator Charles D. Gibson. The candidates of the various tickets are:

For Governor—Democratic, James B. Ames and Wood S. Ashby; Silver Democrat, Alfred T. Blackburn and Robert Kittle; Independent, James J. Boyston and Ell W. Peattie; Prohibition, Josiah J. Bryant and Anna R. Woody; Republican, H. L. Anna and C. H. Morrell.

JUSTICE of the Supreme Court and two of the university are to be elected has contributed to the quiet situation.

The most interesting feature of the contest is provoked by the divided Democracy. The free-silver wing of the party has done some quiet work in the campaign, and it is to be expected that the administration candidate is a vote against white metal. The situation is further complicated by the decision of the State Supreme Court placing both tickets on the ballots designated as Democrats. The organization of the administration is to be considered as being not merely for this campaign, but as preliminary to sending an administration delegation to the next national convention. The candidates of the various parties are:

Democrat—Court Justice—Administrator, Democratic, Timothy J. Mahoney; Independent, Samuel Maxwell; Republican, T. L. Norval; Silver Democrat, Charles J. Phelps; Prohibition, A. G. Wollenbarger.

Regents of State—University—Administrator, Democrat, James B. Ames and Wood S. Ashby; Silver Democrat, Alfred T. Blackburn and Robert Kittle; Independent, James J. Boyston and Ell W. Peattie; Prohibition, Josiah J. Bryant and Anna R. Woody; Republican, H. L. Anna and C. H. Morrell.

SECRETARY OF STATE—Democrat, Charles D. Gibson; Prohibition, A. G. Wollenbarger.

For Governor—Democratic, John H. H. Hobart; Republican, Lloyd Lowndes; Prohibition, Josiah J. Bryant; Populist-Socialist, Henry F. Andrew.

For Comptroller of State—Democratic, Marion DeKahl Smith; Republican, Robert P. Graham; Prohibition, John D. Nocedam; Populist-Socialist, W. H. Gibson.

For Attorney-General—Democratic, Charles D. Crothers; Republican, Henry M. Clabaugh; Prohibitionist, W. Frank Tucker; Populist-Socialist, B. W. Monett.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION IN NEW YORK.

The question of the regulation of the liquor traffic in New York, with special reference to the opening of saloons on Sundays, is giving rise to a vast amount of acrimonious discussion, not only in that city, but to some extent throughout the entire country, the action of the authorities in New York being regarded as something of a test case. Every city of importance in the United States, not excepting Los Angeles and Pasadena, is called upon to deal with the same question from time to time, and this accounts for the interest which is taken in the problem which Commissioner Roosevelt has faced in New York with his usual energy and determination, strictly enforcing a law on the statute books which a majority of those who placed it there never intended or expected would be enforced. Mr. Roosevelt properly holds the opinion that laws are made to be respected. Whatever his personal opinion may be of the law as it now stands, he has declared in words and actions that must convince the most skeptical that he intends to see that this law is enforced to the letter. At first the action of Mr. Roosevelt was taken as a joke; then it was declared to be an utter impossibility for him to carry out his intention, and, lastly, the liquor men became angry. They got up a monster mass-meeting and procession to protest against the enforcement of the Sunday-closing law. As a bluff, they invited Commissioner Roosevelt to review the procession, never expecting that he would accept. They did not, however, know their man. He was promptly on time at the reviewing stand, and smiled down upon the crowd which fled before him with the same nonchalance he exhibited among the Western cowboys when they took him for a dud.

The Central Association of Retail Liquor Dealers of New York is, as might be expected, making a determined fight against the action of the Police Commission. The Wine and Spirit Gazette, which is recognized as the leading exponent in the United States of the liquor interests, takes issue with the association, and is waging a spirited campaign against that body, to which it has given some hard raps. The Gazette reminds its readers that the provision against Sunday traffic in liquor contained in the existing law was voted for by every Tammany representative from New York city, and that Tammany has worked hand in hand with the Liquor Association. It advises the liquor men to cease endeavoring to run counter to public opinion, and urges that the question of permitting Sunday liquor-selling between noon and midnight shall be submitted to public vote in every city of more than fifty thousand inhabitants. After showing how the liquor dealers have been shamelessly lied and used as tools by the Tammany politicians, the Gazette says:

"We blithely say there are some liquor dealers who advocate such action on the part of the trade purely for political reasons. Happily, however, these liquor politicians are in the minority. The burly chid, dreads the 'F.' The trade generally has escaped the clutches of these cormorants, will think twice before allowing itself to be caught in their grip again. The honorable portion of the trade prefers to work for a legalized Sunday traffic in an open, manly way, convinced that that will be cheaper and more profitable in the long run than paying tribute to Tammany Hall for the privilege of being branded law-breakers and making their trade a by-word and reproach to every man in the country."

Referring to some wild incitations ports of the government, furnishing an enormous amount of money every year toward Uncle Sam's expense account. There is no reason why those who are engaged in the retail branch of the industry should be generally regarded by a large proportion of the people of the country as more or less disreputable characters, while the distillers and brewers stand as high in a community as any other class of business men. That such is the case is entirely the fault of the retail liquor men themselves. The manufacturers and wholesalers obey the laws provided for the regulation of their business, while a large proportion of the retail dealers are continually seeking to evade them. The fact that these latter laws are more onerous than those which are imposed on the manufacturers and wholesalers is no excuse for seeking to evade them, because laws are made by the majority, and in this country the majority rules. The retail liquor-dealers would find it vastly to their interest to strictly obey the laws, like other good citizens, instead of paying out boddlin in the shape of bribes for opportunities to evade them.

AS TO CONVENTION PROSPECTS.

The real trouble about securing the National Republican Convention for San Francisco will, we anticipate, lie not so much in the matters of distance, hotel accommodations and hospitality—for all these objections can be overcome—as in the lack of telegraphic facilities for the quick transmission to the great Eastern journals of the voluminous convention reports, regular and special, which will have to be sent by wire across the continent for the benefit of fifty millions of people, more or less. The difference in time between San Francisco and the East (from two to three hours) will militate heavily against the Eastern dailies, and this, to the tremendous volume of the convention reports, burdening the inadequate overland wires, day and night, will cause loud and forcible protests to go up from the great journals of "the other side," which will probably have their effect upon the National Committee. At least there is good ground for believing that the objections named cannot be overcome without much effort. Something more than the creation of a "sack" will be required before the convention is secured for California, and Californians may as well look the facts squarely in the face and not deceive themselves in this business. The movement in favor of a short Presidential campaign, started by the business interests of the country, is right, and deserves to succeed. At best, Presidential campaigns are great disturbers of the current of business throughout the country, and they should not be unnecessarily prolonged. The Republican leaders will do a wise thing to defer to the prevailing business sentiment of the country, and decree a campaign not to exceed in duration seventy-five, or, at the utmost, ninety days.

"A writer in the Sun, criticizing the attitude of the Staats-Zeitung, is disagreeably affected by this intolerance of these Germans, as shown in the columns of their chief organ. He says: 'The autocratic editor of that paper sees to think the Germans are the sole custodians and promoters of personal liberty; and any comment made upon dissenting opinions is sure to be accompanied by sneering, arrogant remarks as to the sincerity, honesty or integrity of the dissenter. And this is the illustration we have of his idea of personal liberty.'

"Is the 'personal liberty' so strenuously contended for by the Staats-Zeitung liberty to sell and drink beer at all times, in all places, and in any quantities? That may be well enough, but how about the Irishman's whisky, the Italian's wine, the Frenchman's brandy, and the Hollander's gin? Are these to have no liberty? Have our Teutonic friends an absolute monopoly of that inestimable boon guaranteed to all mankind by the founders of this republic?

"It looks very much as if the German mind and conscience were in the keeping of the great lager-beer brewers, nearly all of whom are Germans, and who are zealously grinding their political axes in this country. They would be very glad to see shape and direct public sentiment as to secure legislation permitting the Sunday sale of beer, but prohibiting all other beverages."

Finally, the Gazette shows that those who talk about the much greater license which is enjoyed by liquor-dealers in Germany are, to use a vulgar expression, "talking through their hats." Says the Gazette:

"Those Germans who assume to criticize Commissioner Roosevelt for his honest enforcement of the Sunday law, and delight in talking of the larger liberty enjoyed in Germany in the matter of liquor-selling, will find the following cable news item, printed in the Staats-Zeitung, instructive reading:

"SCHNEIDERMEYER, Sept. 23.—The Criminal Court here has sentenced police Sergeant Oscar Huber to two years in the State's prison and ten years' disfranchisement because he as a public official failed to report that Mr. and Mrs. Bruch, who had saloon in the house where he lived, kept their place open after the law went into effect."

The only "busted" thing about the slugs who have been doing so much two-handed talking in Arkansas of late is their pockets. It is seriously to be deplored that their ugly mugs and the wagging jaws of them are still intact.

An Omaha bank president, "a party by the name of Johnson," has fled the city which lies alongside a Missouri sand-bar, taking with him a large unearned increment. And there are large. We should then be saved from these constant scandals and bickerings which do so much to demoralize municipal government in the great cities of the country, while the liquor-dealers themselves would stand higher in the estimation of the general public. The liquor industry of the United States is one of the main financial supporters of the Legislature nor call out the militia.

Now that the Durrant case is temporarily ended, it is to be hoped that the San Francisco newspapers will continue their reeking, for a time at least.

If the railroads continue to reduce the time, our citizens will soon be able to do their shopping in Chicago as Pasadenians now do in Los Angeles:

The American play of "Trilby" has captivated London. This is certainly carrying coals so near Newcastle that there is no fun in it.

Calling out the militia to stop a prizefight seems about as dignified as it would be to train a man-of-war on a marauding flea.

The seriously injured, so far as they can be found, are:

W. W. GILBERT of Sharpsburg, Pa., probably broken, spine probably broken, may die.

C. J. GARVEY of Marietta, O., head crushed and back wrenched, will probably die.

W. N. ROSE of Chicago, right arm broken.

J. W. GILBERT of Sharpsburg, Pa., thigh broken, head badly cut.

J. N. GOUCHEWON of Pittsburgh left elbow broken.

J. W. FOSTER of Beaver, Pa., right foot broken.

JOHN WATTS of Wheeling, elbow dislocated.

MRS. CLARKE of Allegheny, shoulder dislocated.

A DISASTER ON THE "KATY."

DALLAS, (Tex.), Nov. 3.—News was received in this city this evening of the wreck of the northbound passenger train on the "Katy" four miles west of Wazaxachie. W. E. Smith of this city, who was a passenger on the train, arrived at 7:30 o'clock this evening. He said:

"Owing, I suppose, to a spread in the rail, the engine and four cars were derailed. There immediately rose a cloud of dust, mingled with moans, indicating that many of the passengers had been hurt. The engineer, Mike Murphy, was killed, and in all twenty-two persons were injured, thirteen of them more or less severely."

Five coaches were derailed and two turned completely over. Sheriff Bell of Hill county had his shoulder dislocated. All of the passengers were more or less bruised, but none badly or seriously injured.

The scene of the wreck is a small flagstation without telegraph facilities. The derailment was caused by an open switch.

PASSENGERS' GOSSIP.

TAMPA (Fla.), Nov. 3.—Passengers arriving from Cuba tonight say that fully 5,000 men have joined the insurgents to the effect that the insurgents continue to burn villages and plantations and to attempt to dynamite the railroads.

THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE FOR THE "GEM."

ADDITIONAL REINFORCEMENTS WILL BE SENT AS FAST AS SPAIN CAN GET THEM TOGETHER—NEW JERSEY WILL HELP OUT WITH A FEW.

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

MADRID, Nov. 3.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The paper states that 35,000 troops will be sent to Cuba forthwith and additional reinforcements will be sent as required. Reports received here are to the effect that the insurgents continue to burn villages and plantations and to attempt to dynamite the railroads.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The cold and broken weather has affected farm work, and there is a prospect of a small wheat area. The wheat market was quiet and there was less confidence. Heavy stocks in Russia, a large American visible supply and favorable prospects in Argentina caused the market to be very sensitive. The public responded to the demand for the winter wheat.

It is declared to be the fact that this southern cruise was all arranged for early in the summer between Secretary Herbert and Admiral Bunce, when the scheme of evolution was gone over. The plan was first a cruise of the North Atlantic coast, and lastly another cruise in the winter, when the conditions would be unfavorable in Northern waters and this programme is being carried out.

A priest who went to Lacret Camp to hear confessions reports having found 350 armed and 200 unarmed men in Sagua district. Letters from Macao say his headquarters near Santiago are unoccupied by the Spaniards. He is on the aggressive.

A SQUADRON FOR THE WEST INDIES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Admiral Bunce of the North Atlantic squadron is to go to the West Indies and is to be reinforced; but at the Navy Department it is explicitly stated that this movement is not in any manner brought about by any motive save a desire to continue the squadron maneuvering that have been conducted.

MEMPHIS SPECULATORS "SCARY."

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The disquieting political rumors during the past week, which, under normal conditions, would have been speedily dissipated, have under the scare produced by the mining collapse, and the financial panic, led to an unexpected weakness in Paris and Constantinople, where there has evidently been wild speculation in mining shares. All the markets have suffered more or less, the worst being mines, foreign and domestic. After Friday's stock market report yesterday with a better tone and with an appreciable advance in prices, which would have been greater, but for the moratorium declared at Constantinople.

Flour was weaker, but London stocks were small. Maize was quiet and fairly steady, mixed American being down.

Barley was more freely offered for shipment and was in moderate demand. Oats were quiet and steady.

MINING SPECULATORS "SCARY."

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The disquieting political rumors during the past week, which, under normal conditions, would have been speedily dissipated, have under the scare produced by the mining collapse, and the financial panic, led to an unexpected weakness in Paris and Constantinople, where there has evidently been wild speculation in mining shares. All the markets have suffered more or less, the worst being mines, foreign and domestic. After Friday's stock market report yesterday with a better tone and with an appreciable advance in prices, which would have been greater, but for the moratorium declared at Constantinople.

It is thought, however, there may be trouble on the main line east of Minot. The employees on the Montana Central in Montana were circulating petitions last night on each branch, demanding a moratorium.

There was no grievance. The petitions will be forwarded to President Hill at once.

Localmasters of the Great Northern today claim to know nothing of the reported strike ordered on that road last night, and that the men are still at work.

It is advised that that order be withdrawn.

Butte is a very strong center and it is thought possible that that trouble might begin there, but nothing seems to be known here about it.

President Hill and General Manager Warren tonight said they had not received reports indicating trouble along the line. They repeat their statements of yesterday that the employees of the line had made no complaints and had sent no grievances that complaints made in their name are at this time unauthorized.

DEBS "PUTS HIS OAR IN."

WOODSTOCK (Ill.) Nov. 3.—Eugene V. Debs made the following statement today with reference to the threatened strike on the Great Northern:

"The policy of the Great Northern in reference to its employees is to be dishonest and disreputable

Pasadena Yesterday.

MT. LOWE.

Chamber of Commerce Excursionists and Other Visitors.

The Chamber of Commerce excursion over the Mt. Lowe Railway on Saturday was a pronounced success. Many prominent business men availed themselves of this occasion to have a day of exhilarating, out-of-laden, mountain sports. Most of them had their wives or lady friends. Not a few names were registered from distant localities North and East.

Among the well-known citizens who, for the first time, took a comprehensive view of Southern California from these mountain heights were: Councilor M. P. Snyder and E. L. Blanchard and their wives, City Auditor Fred H. H. Teale, A. G. Bartlett, G. W. Poindexter, G. F. Conant and G. W. Johnson and their wives.

John E. H. Knight, who has been to San Francisco for a fortnight, has returned to his home.

Enos Davies, who made a trip to England some months ago on business for E. T. Howe, has returned to Pasadena.

Mrs. Eldred and family have moved to their handsome new home at the corner of Raymond avenue and Mountain street.

The Woman's League of the Universalist Church is busy preparing for a bazaar which they will give early next month.

Pasadena and vicinity was visited with a rain lasting several hours today, and the prospects for an all-night downfall are good.

The rain seriously interfered with the plans of the Raymond Park opening. The concert was postponed, and the park was not opened.

Atmospheric Minister dismissed on Saturday the remaining gambling cases, in compliance with instructions received from the District Attorney's office.

There were impressive communion services at the Presbyterian Church this morning. Fifteen members were admitted by letter, and two on profession of faith.

G. W. Daniels, who has been the guest of Mr. Casterline's family for some time, departed Saturday evening for his home in Danville, N. Y., over the Sunset route.

Another pair of twins was born in Pasadena on Saturday morning, the happy parents being Mr. and Mrs. Allen, a carpenter in the employ of Banning Bros., and makes his winter home in Pasadena.

The Worcester avenue opening matter was probably concluded before the Council Monday, as the attorney for the city was instructed last week to look into the law upon the subject, and to ascertain whether or not the city had power to open a street through school property.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Pasadena has appointed the committees for the work of the year. The chairman of the various committees are as follows: Devotional, Prof. C. M. Parker; Extension, J. F. Church; Music, C. E. Monfort; Reception; Visitation, E. F. Brown; Invitation, H. Holbrook; Social and Literary, Prof. A. L. Hamilton.

TEACHERS' RECEPTION.

City Pedagogues Receive New Members of the Corps.

A pleasant reception was given by the teachers of the city schools Friday evening in honor of the new members of the corps. It was held at the reception hall of the Lincoln school building, which had been beautifully decorated with flowers and vines for the occasion by the committee in charge of that portion of the programme. Refreshments were served in the office, the tables being daintily decorated. The guests were served by Misses Gerhart, Burtt, Mitchell and Bascom. The evening was spent in socializing, numbers were reconnected, and there were a few recitations. The rest of the time was spent by the corps in social conversation and in making the acquaintance of the new members of Pasadena's public schools. The entire population of the city was present, and besides these the following were included in the list of guests: Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hartwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Boynton. Those invited to speak at the reception were Mr. Edwards, Miss Burson, Miss Duncan, Miss Keyes, Miss Madgeley and Trustee Delos Arnold and wife.

Juvenile Temple Entertainment.

Mrs. C. Lathrop entertained the younger members of the Juvenile Temple, I.O.G.T., at her home on Pasadena Avenue Saturday afternoon. Games were played by the little folks, and they were entertained by music and refreshments. Among those present were the following: Miss Gertrude Ralston, Myrtle Ralston, Minnie McClure, Nellie Case, Estella Case, Fannie Furman, Lillian Hattie Showalter, Floyd Lathrop, Norma Cook, Masters Arthur Pennel, Vera Kipp, John Ralston, Norma Karson, Glenn Kouch, Melvin Hall, Ray Jackson, Eddie Hillier, Sydney Drawbaugh, Virgil Carlson, Walter Thrall. A scrapbook was presented to each little guest as a souvenir of the pleasant occasion.

Hard-times Social.

A large gathering of young people participated in a Hard Times Social at the Universalist Church Friday evening. It was in the matter of costume, a veritable rag fair, and much amusement was created by the exposition of the queer and fine programme was rendered by the members of the Young People's Society, and at its conclusion the gentlemen of the company bought one or more baskets of luncheon which had been put up by the ladies, being honored in the participation of the lady whose name was on the basket, when he disposed of the contents of the lunch package.

Youthful Vandals.

Several cases of malicious mischief perpetrated at the Wilson school Halloween night have been reported by the supervising principal. Books were displaced which have not been found, and written exercises were either stolen or hidden, necessitating a large amount of extra work for the higher grade pupils in re-writing and arranging. It is possible that some of the cases of vandalism in the school building may cause some arrests and punishments.

For Sale Signs Must Go.

It is evident that the movement to banish "For Sale" signs will be a success in Pasadena, and it is said an agreement is being framed which will be presented to all the agents for signature. The agents will bind themselves to place no signs on the property in their hands for sale.

HAPPENINGS IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD YESTERDAY.

Evangelist Romig Opens a Revival Meeting at the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Booth Speaks at First Congregational Church and Simpson Tabernacle.

Dr. Day Delivers a Discourse on Unusual Forces—A Sermon on Science of Prayer by Dr. S. Thomson.

Notwithstanding the rains yesterday afternoon, the audience room at the First Christian Church was filled with people who had gathered to hear Evangelist Romig, who entered upon a series of meetings for this church yesterday. Evangelist Romig arrived in the city yesterday morning from Visalia, where he has just closed a meeting which resulted in nearly seventy-five conversions. He is an earnest, energetic speaker, and has been very successful in evangelistic work.

Yesterday morning he spoke upon "Christ winning His first disciples," John 1, 35-51. As in the instance of the first twelve disciples, said the speaker, Jesus always challenges the world to come and see Him and the results He can effect by His work. He gives proof of His divine nature and origin by the results produced by His work. Each one converts himself, and the world is always the surest test of the efficacy of His work. God designs that men and women converted to Christ shall bring their families to God. Thus spiritual relationships are used as means of communication of spiritual life. No one ever comes to Christ earnestly seeking help who does not find His divine nature and mission.

Evangelist Romig spoke in the evening on the necessity of earnest and frequent prayer, and pointed his remarks by citing numerous cases of conversion. He said, in substance, that people do not pray and trust enough; that they do not give themselves up to the Lord, as He does, and then leave the result to Him. To pray and then go to work, God expects us to do whatever we can toward answering our own prayers, and when we have reached the point where we can do no more, He will take the matter up. We cannot influence souls to come to Jesus Christ until we ourselves become living examples of Him.

The speaker urged his hearers to pray for themselves, their families, neighbors and the whole world.

MRS. BOOTH'S MEETING.

Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth was greeted by an immense crowd at the First Congregational Church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Booth dealt with the work of the army in detail and illustrated the good results secured by the soldiers in missions of all kinds. The work done by the corps in different places was discussed. Special attention was drawn to the exertions being put forth by the army to create an object and a definite hope in life for outcasts.

Mrs. Booth spoke in Simpson Memorial Tabernacle in the evening. She took for the subject of her discourse the "Heart Knowledge of God." Among other things, Mrs. Booth said:

"The Salvation Army believes that what the world needs is the heart knowledge of God, and that is the religion which avails in that which flows from the heart. The knowledge of the head counts for nothing. There are many people who look upon God as a God afar off. They have an imperfect knowledge of Him, however, and God's commandments, self, renunciation of sin and the willingness to follow Jesus. When this knowledge comes to the honest seeker after light he will see the Lord God, not through earth-born forms but as He is, man's best and truest friend."

BEATRICE IS GONE.

Supposed to Have Elopement with a Forbidden Suitor.

Beatrice Mooser, the pretty seventeen-year-old daughter of L. Mooser, has disappeared, presumably in company with a man who has persisted in paying her attentions against the wishes of Mr. Mooser.

Last Saturday evening, about 8:30 o'clock, Beatrice wanted to meet her male friend at Spring and Third streets. She was forbidden to do so, but shortly afterward it was discovered that she had left the house.

The girl wore, when she disappeared, a green skirt, green coat, cape, black silk hat and the neck-cloth. She is about 5 feet 4 inches tall, has brown eyes and hair, and is of slender build.

Some time ago she was sent to San Francisco to get her away from the influence of the man who is supposed to have gone to San Francisco Saturday evening. Not long after her arrival in San Francisco she was found in a house of questionable character by detectives. She said she had been a prisoner in the house three days, and claimed that she had been forced to make the downward road, but had refused.

Since her return to Los Angeles her suitor has increased his attentions, and it is thought that at last induced her to elope with him.

Mr. Mooser is greatly worried over his daughter's strange course, and says that he would receive the objectionable suitor as his son-in-law if that would settle the difficulty. Mrs. Mooser is distracted over her daughter's disappearance. The wayward girl is implored by her parents to return home.

His Leg Broken.

J. C. Barr of Acton met with a painful accident at an early hour yesterday morning. He and his son had driven into town and had left their horses in a stable near Main and Jefferson streets. At about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, he started to feed the horses, preparatory to making an early start for home. One of the animals plunged against him and knocked him over in such a way that his leg was broken near the hip. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and treated, and sent to the County Hospital later in the day.

Mikado's Birthday Celebrated.

A celebration in honor of the Mikado's birthday was held last night by the local Japanese, at Illinois Hall. Council Forecast. There will probably be a large number of bids before the City Council today. Proposals are to be received for the construction of a new jail and for sweeping paved streets, walls and other things. It is expected the Northwest Improvement Association will file a protest against the use of newly graded streets in that part of the city for the time being, as gravel and other articles are dropped from the wagons, and the roadway is badly cut up by reason of such heavily-loaded vehicles passing over it.

FIRE HORSE HURT.

A Burning Sheet at the Sixth Congregational Church.

A sheet hanging in the auditorium of the First Congregational Church at Sixth and Hill streets for the purpose of improving the acoustic properties, caught fire from a gas jet a little before 7 o'clock last evening. A telephone alarm was turned in and the fire department responded. The damage was slight.

When the hook and ladder truck was on the way responding to the alarm, it collided with a cable car at First and Main streets. The gripman was clinging to his gong and did not hear the bell on the truck. He was looking the other way until his car had run onto the crosswalk, which could not run back, and so kept the car going ahead.

The front of the truck struck the cable car near the rear. But little damage was done save to one of the horses, which was hurt in the head. A large piece of skin was partly ripped off but it was reported a little later that the animal would probably be ready for duty again within about two weeks.

Applied Christianity.

At the last meeting of the Institute of Applied Christianity, Rev. C. C. McLean presiding, resolutions were adopted expressing the regret of the Institute for the removal from Los Angeles of the Rev. Dr. J. W. Campbell, and his appreciation of the influence he has exerted for religion and practical righteousness during his four years' pastorate in this city, and of the assistance he has rendered this institute, both by his wise counsel and his publication of its proceedings.

An interesting review of Prof. Heron's work, "A Plea for the Gospel," was presented by J. O. Blakeley, with well-selected quotations, and was highly appreciated by the audience. It was decided to hold the first grand mass-meeting of the Institute on Sunday evening, November 10, in Simpson Tabernacle, at which there will be a number of brief addresses, accompanied by stories and other music. In view of the mass-meeting on the 10th, the opening of the Civic Parley, and the annual meeting of the National Council on Tuesday evening, November 12, the meeting on Tuesday evening of this week will be held in the Y.M.C.A. parlors, at which there will be an address and discussion.

October Weather.

Weather Observer Franklin has issued his report of October weather, showing the following details: The highest atmospheric pressure was 30.11, and occurred on October 16; the lowest was 29.84, on October 2. The mean pressure was 29.96. The highest temperature, 91 deg., was on the 2nd, and the lowest, 45 deg., on the 31st. The greatest daily range of temperature was 41 deg., and occurred on October 21; the mean range was 10 deg. and occurred on October 2. The prevailing direction of the wind has been west. The maximum of wind with its direction and date is shown to have been 14 west, on the 24th inst. The total rain precipitation was .24 inch, and the average precipitation for the month has been .90 inches. There were twelve clear and eighteen partly cloudy days.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

A Deaf Mute Meets with a Painful Accident.

Thomas Widd, who lives at the corner of Vermont avenue and Twenty-third street was the victim of an accident yesterday afternoon. He, in company with Mrs. Widd, Norman V. Lewis and E. C. Ould, all of them being deaf mutes, were returning from services at St. Paul's Church. They were in a one-seater, drawn by one horse, and at about 4:30 p.m. were passing near Hotel Figueroa, where, for some unknown reason, the horse commenced kicking and broke away from the driver.

One of the calks on the horse's shoe struck Mr. Widd a fearful blow on the right leg just under the knee. The wound bled profusely and caused the unfortunate man much pain. A good Samaritan took Mr. Widd into his own carriage and conveyed him home.

Dr. William Huggins was called to attend Mr. Widd and he said he thought there were no bones broken. Mr. Ould had his foot stepped on by the horse, but he was not seriously injured.

RIPANS TABULES

Mr. Leon M. Barnes of Woodbury, Ct., writes under date of May 22, 1895: "This remedy, Ripans Tabules, is not much known at the drug store here, but Mr. A. E. Knox, the editor of our local paper, is loud in his praise of the Tabules. He said: 'Every spring and summer I have been greatly troubled with dyspepsia and constipation, and have tried various remedies with no permanent relief. A few weeks ago I came in possession of a couple of boxes of Ripans Tabules, and, somewhat incredulously, I began their use, and the results have been truly astonishing. They hit the right spot from the first, and so far this spring I have never felt better in my life.'"
